A Cuppa Tea with Miss Jean: Her Life and Legacy, unravels the riveting story of "Miss Jean," a woman who left indelible footprints on the sands of time.

Born in London in 1924, her life was nothing less than extraordinary. From battling childhood illness to witnessing the horrors of WWII during her formative years, her spirit remained unbroken. Jean's early passion for dance and theatre ignited a spark that illuminated her path for years to come. Her journey with the Cole Bros. Circus further honed her artistic skills. In 1953, Jean began a new chapter in Hudson, Massachusetts, where she breathed life into her dream of owning a dance studio—Jean's School of Dance. She opened a gymnastics school with the author many years later, Jean's School of Gymnastics Inc.
